Daniel is a very effective lecturer. He's great at going over difficult concepts and providing examples in class. Office hours were also extremely useful!

He picks up all the pieces that Professor Bas leaves unclear, so Moskowitz does the best with the short hour that he has.

I would've hated this class if not for Daniel. He was an extremely effective teacher, and he was so helpful with understanding the concepts and finishing up the problem sets.

Only person in this entire course that I felt really wanted to see the students succeed and would actually help them. He's extremely committed to teaching his students and I appreciated his explanations and style of teaching sections.
